János KOCSÁNY

After graduating as an architect, János Kocsány studied economics, estate management and MBA. In 1981 he began to work in different fields of the building industry, mostly on construction worksites. He found computer support of logistics to be the most engaging task for him. Following his varied architect career, in 1994 he began to work as an investment specialist in real estate, directing the organization of whole development projects. In 1996 he joined Graphisoft R&D Rt., and from then on leads the development of the park, the leasing and the operational tasks. He also serves as the CEO of Graphisoft Park SE, ever since it became a separate property developer company listed on the stock market.
